

My Brother, My Sister: Sibling Relationships in Adoption & Foster Care

Sibling relations have been an important but often ignored issue in adoption and foster care for many years. Reunification and kinship placements have received much attention in the field. At the same time the needs of very close kin, siblings, are often shuffled to the rear. Using a curriculum written by Regina Kupecky, an expert in the field of child welfare, this workshop will highlight issues common to siblings in care, the importance of sibling ties, why siblings are separated, the benefits of keeping siblings together and ways to build/maintain sibling connections when living separately.
